Water Intelligence Solutions: Enterprises

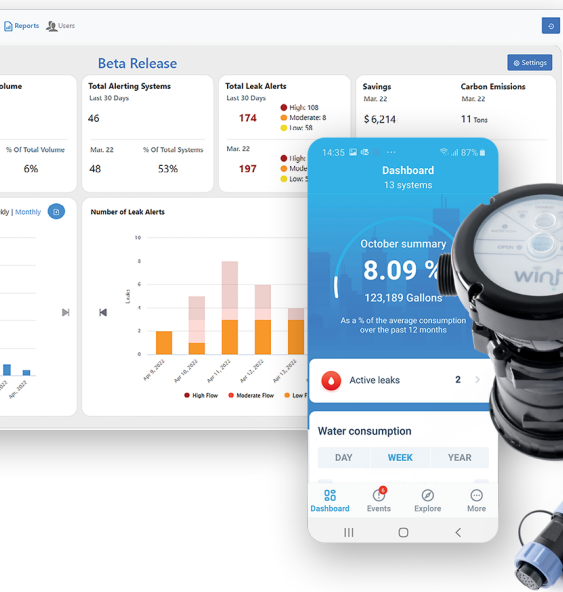

Prevent Water Damage

A lot of water enters your building. At some point, some of it will escape. And when leaks happen, they can be very expensive. Electricity, elevators, computers, equipment – damages adds up. And that’s before you calculate the disruption to your business. Lost productivity, projects delayed, clients let down – the costs can be very high.

Reduce Water Consumption

Water is not just a risk; it’s also a source of cost and a focus for sustainability aware organizations. WINT makes it easy to reduce consumption. With WINT, organizations can:

- Detect sources of waste
- Accurately measure water flows
- View detailed reports and dashboards that provide deep insights on water use
- Act on the actionable insights with WINT’s water-use KPIs and analytics
